‘The [Liverpool Asperger] team has a person-centred approach and uses the concept of a managed care pathway to provide direct support, make referrals and support other service providers. Their wider network includes specialist services for people involved in the criminal justice system and those receiving support from mental health and alcohol and substance misuse services. When dealing with employment support, education, and other statutory and non-statutory services, the care management role is normally undertaken by a member of the Asperger Team itself.’
